From the Editor

Ken Pfeiffer

Welcome to the June edition of the Angle!

I have some very good news this month. Ron Williams has updated the Angle Website, <http://ccccAngle.com>. It now contains a huge amount of valuable information in an easily useable form. It has archives to all the Angle issues, biographies and articles by club members, end of year award winners history, summaries of education/training and program night presentations, exhibition night judges, assignments, requirements, and schedules, photos from all exhibition nights, and websites for the club, judges, and presenters. Much kudos to Ron for doing this tremendous amount of work for our benefit. I urge you to check out this incredible resource. There is a link to this website at the top of the front page of each issue of the Angle.

Chris Seaton, our projected images director, has a request for those of us who submit images to our monthly exhibitions. She has noted that she will sometimes receive files with a double ".jpg" extension. The "file extension" is the letters following the "." at the end of a file name. In general, if you save an image as a "jpeg", your photo editor will automatically add that file extension to the name, and you will not need to add it manually when you rename your file for submission. The operating system on your computer may be configured to hide file extensions so you may not see it in your file explorer, but it will show up when you attach the image to an email. So please be careful about this and make sure your file name contains only one ".jpg" at the end. There is a new paragraph of explanation about this issue in the Image Requirements section of this newsletter.

For Programs Night and Fourth Tuesday, Bill Banning and Sandy Grasso-Boyd have some great events planned as usual, but at this time all the details are not completely clear. So please keep those nights free to join us, and we will let you know more as soon as possible.

ATTENTION: Please note that our exhibition in July will be on July 11, the 2nd Tuesday of the month, and not on the 1st Tuesday, which is the July 4th Holiday.

The Angle is the official newsletter of the Channel City Camera Club. We invite our members to submit articles or other news to be included in the Angle. Please send any contributions by the 15th of each month to the Angle via email. I am also interested in your ideas for improving this newsletter, so please send your input to me at the above address. Thanks much!

Exhibition Night

Ron Williams

For our CCCC Exhibition on June 6, 2017 our professional judges will be Rod Rolle and Christopher Broughton. Our club judge will be David Hancock. There is a special assignment for the Nature category: black and white trees(s).

Rod Rolle produces "Images With A Global View In Mind". Since graduating from Brooks Institute in 1986, he has built his business and a reputation as a both a corporate photographer and a photojournalist. A native New Yorker, he has traveled and photographed widely. His work has appeared in many publications such as Time and Business Week. Getty Images currently distributes his photographs, and he has sold his images to over 220 publications in 36 countries. His 2009 photograph of Michael Jackson standing on top a SUV outside the Santa Maria Courthouse won him a spot in Getty Images' Pictures of the Year Collection. He taught Basic Photography at UCSB, Video Production through the UCLA Extension, as well as Advanced Photography, Digital Design, and Photojournalism at Santa Barbara City College.

Christopher Broughton grew up traveling and, at age eleven, remembers taking his mom's twin lens camera to a five-week summer camp in the mountains of North Carolina. It had just a single roll of film with twelve exposures. Those twelve frames became the jewels of that summer. Since then the quest to visually fill the frame has never stopped. Broughton completed both a BA and MS in Photography at Brooks Institute and then returned to serve as a faculty member for over 20 years. He taught courses in Digital Photography, Digital Asset Management, View Camera, Studio, Zone System, Fine Art, and Photographic Theory. One of the highlights of his teaching career was the opportunity to spend five summers as a Brooks professor in Paris. Fifty of his B&W prints will be on display at the Four Friends Gallery in Thousand Oaks, opening June 2.

David Hancock — David received a Brownie HawkEye camera on his eighth birthday and was then hooked on photographing airplanes. He joined the local photography club while in junior high and then became his high school photographer. Upon graduation, he came to Santa Barbara to attend Brooks Institute. After about a year and low on funds he found a job working for one of the pioneers in sound engineering. He later worked at UCSB, became director of media, and was the faculty advisor for the campus camera club. He was a member of the F9 photo group as well as CCCC past president and vice president. After retirement he continued his interest in audio-video systems, but spends more time on photography, with interests in travel, street, and people.

Image Requirements/Categories/Scoring

Requirements for submitting images for Club exhibitions are posted at:

<http://cccameraclub.com/exhibition-rules/>

Images are submitted in five categories:

1. Open: This is an open-ended category for all exhibitions includes images on any subject done using any technique.
2. Prints: A printed photograph may be entered at each exhibition without restriction on subject material or the technique used to create the image. It shall not be smaller than 5" x 7" or larger than 13" x 19", horizontal or vertical. It must be mounted to a suitable backing board or printed on a light weight flat surface less than 1" thick that can stand on the exhibition easel. The maximum size of the backing board and mat is 20" x 24", horizontal or vertical.
3. Nature: restricted to the use of the photographic process to depict observations from all branches of natural history, except anthropology and archeology, in such a fashion that a well informed person will be able to identify the subject material and to certify as to its honest presentation.

- All adjustments must appear natural.
- The story telling value of a photograph must be weighed more than the pictorial quality while maintaining a high technical quality.
- Human elements shall not be present. The presence of scientific bands, scientific tags or radio collars on wild animals is permissible.
- Photographs of mounted specimens, or obviously set arrangements, are ineligible, as is any form of manipulation that alters the truth of the photographic statement.
- No techniques that add to, relocate, replace, or remove pictorial elements except by cropping are permitted. Techniques that enhance the presentation of the photograph without changing the nature story or the pictorial content are permitted.

4. People: Any depiction of the human condition. Formal portraiture, documentary and photo-journalistic images are all appropriate. One or several persons are permitted.

5. Unscored Critiqued: this category is available during every Juried Exhibition for members who want an image critiqued but not scored by the judges. The unscored critiqued category has the following specific rules:

- Subject: There is no restriction on the subject material or the technique used in creating the image.
- Quantity: Unscored critiqued submission is limited to one digital file for each Exhibition, and that individual is able to enter photos in two other digital categories as well. Thus every Club member is eligible to enter three digital categories at each Exhibition.

Images are scored by three judges according to the following guidelines:

- Score of 9: image showing exceptional artistic and technical skill.
- Score of 8: image showing very high artistic and technical skill.
- Score of 7: very good image worthy of award consideration.
- Score of 6: average image with some good and some bad aspects.
- Score of 5: below-average image needing improvement.
- Score of 4: below-average image with a serious technical defect.
- Score of 3: image with multiple defects.

File Naming: digital files shall be named without spaces using the following filename format – Title%%Cat%%Artist.jpg, where:

- Title is your title for the image – no spaces (use underscore between words); no commas, slashes, or apostrophes.
- Cat is the Category abbreviation: Nat for Nature, Peo for People, Ope for Open, Pri for Print, and Uns for Unscored Critiqued.
- Artist is your first name followed by an underscore and your last name - no spaces (use underscore); no commas, slashes, or apostrophes.
- Do not include spaces in the file name – use the %% separator between Title, Category, and Artist.

Example: Nature image “Before the Storm” submitted by Betty Smith would have the file name of Before_the_Storm%%Nat%%Betty_Smith.jpg.

Please Note: JPEG images produced by ACR/Lightroom, Photoshop or Elements by default have the ".jpg" extension. You may not see this on your file explorer if you have file extensions hidden, but it will show up when you attach the image to your email to submit it for the exhibition. Do not add an extra ".jpg" to your filename. If you see a filename like "MyPicture%%Ope%%Rembrant.jpg.jpg" please delete the extra ".jpg" before submitting.

Member Biography

Linda Kavanagh

Regrettably I am often working on the road, so participating in camera club meetings and field trips is difficult. I find my evenings catching up with Camera Club news on the Angle to stay in touch. I am an amateur with my photography but my off time is usually spent editing pictures, making slide shows and movies of the pictures I took, or reading tutorials on camera techniques. I am a travel consultant with Montecito Village Travel in Santa Barbara, and my work often takes me to faraway places. I started capturing my memories, and spend my evenings editing, making slideshows and movies. All amateur but I am learning. Born in Southern Ontario Canada, I left after graduating University, and traveled Europe, Middle East and Africa for 2 ½ years. I started a business while over there collecting jewelry and artifacts while visiting tribes and villages off the beaten bath. I lived on a deserted island where I had built a thatched hut, and spent the days diving for shells, and caught fish and lobster to eat. Returning to America I spent the next few years making jewelry and selling off my collection while becoming a travel consultant.

I have lived in London England, Greece and Kenya. My career as a travel consultant has spanned 40 years now and my travels have included 62 countries. I still have a bucket list six feet tall. My photographs are with a "bridge" camera SONY RX10 111. Carrying laptops, wires and phone system, I don't have the luxury of a camera with several lenses, but find my photographic needs are met substantially with this camera. I use Lightroom for editing, and NH Photostage for slideshow/movie production. I just purchased the Lightroom manual and my Sony's manual, and to my surprise both are the size of coffee table books. I better get busy and start learning more. My motto is "you learn something every day"...

Kentucky Derby

I thought this article in PetaPixel might be of interest to club members, if only to point out what these super pros have at their disposal on a shoot.

<https://petapixel.com/2017/05/06/heres-one-photographers-camera-kit-kentucky-derby/>

ESPN photographer and Nikon Ambassador Bill Frakes is covering his 35th

Kentucky Derby this weekend. This crazy photo shows the absolutely massive camera kit he's bringing to cover the famous horse race.

Frakes will have nearly 50 DSLR camera bodies (split between D5, D810, and D500 tiers) and a huge number of lenses of all types at his fingertips to capture every newsworthy moment. He's planning on setting up and using each of the cameras.

"This is the entire collection of cameras... except for my handheld," Frakes writes. "I'm pretty sure I have everything I need."

There's also some gear not seen in the photo: Frakes will be using 35 Manfrotto magic arms, some tripods, and many superclamps to position the cameras and hold them in place.

"No idea how many [photos] we will shoot," the photographer said in response to a question on his Facebook post. "As you know with remotes you have to be prepared to cover a lot of possibilities — the horses didn't tell me who is going to win. With multimedia the number of frames used is significant."

And if you've ever wanted to see hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of Nikon camera gear arranged neatly on a table, now you have.

From Ron Williams - Ron Williams and Ken Pfeiffer each displayed a print at the Courthouse Legacy Foundation's reception on May 19 to celebrate the opening of its new office in the Santa Barbara Courthouse. To their pleasant surprise Congressman Salud Carbajal purchased Ken's "Courthouse At Twilight" immediately upon seeing it!

From Ron Williams - As a result of a CCCC field trip to the Surf To Summit metal printing facility in Goleta, Ron Williams worked with its owner, Eric States, to produce a large (24" x 84") metal print that was sold and installed on a residential terrace in Hope Ranch. Eric is confident that the print will be resistant to the outside environment.

From Bruce Straits - My image of "Star Trails, South Tufa, Mono Lake" placed in the top 100 images of the 2017 NANPA (North American Nature Photography Association) Showcase Competition. Approximately 3,350 images were submitted by NANPA members, and the 250 top-scoring were published in Expressions magazine.

From Chuck Place -

My next class for the Santa Barbara City College CLL Program, "Location Photo Shoots With A Pro", begins Saturday, May 27 and runs for five weeks. This location shooting class meets at a different location each week. We spend the morning capturing a location or event and I spend time with each of my students suggesting ways to increase the impact of their images and possible directions for post-production. Each shoot is a lot of fun and then we all upload five of our favorite images from the shoot onto a private Facebook Group Page. It's fascinating to see the different approaches we all take when photographing the same subject. Everyone gets solid feedback on their work from myself and other students. The class is a great way to fine tune your photography and often introduces students to subjects they had never photographed before. For more information on this class, please go to https://sbcc.augusoft.net/index.cfm?method=ClassInfo.ClassInformation&int_class_id=20591&int_category_id=14&int_sub_category_id=222&int_catalog_id=0 . If you would like to see my summer classes, click on <http://www.chuckplacephotography.com/workshops> and then the class that interests you. Thanks.

THE FLOWER BOMB

In case you missed it, this spring was the year of the "Super Bloom" in the California deserts. Due to a wet winter after years of drought, the California deserts exploded with wildflowers. Although family matters kept me home during most of it, I was able to dash over to the Carrizo Plains and catch the tail end of the bloom there.

Even two weeks late, the masses of hillside daisies carpeting the Temblor Range and the huge sweeps of goldfields blooming around Soda Lake were visible for miles. Up close, they were almost overwhelming.

Using a camera to capture both the grandeur of these massive blooms and the intimate delicacy of each flower is a challenge, but it can be done using a simple tool—backlighting. Light passing through a translucent flower petal will always be more saturated than light reflecting off the same surface and has the added advantage of highlighting all the tiny hairs, pistils and stamens that make flowers such exotic creatures.

Although it is a simple technique, backlighting does have a couple tricky aspects. First, make sure to check your histogram for exposure. Many cameras tend to underexpose backlit situations. You are essentially exposing for the shadow side of your subject and if you are using manual exposure, overexpose by about $2/3$ of a stop. Second, avoid flare by checking the front lens element to make sure no direct sunlight is hitting the glass. If necessary, use something to shade the lens, like the brim of a hat or a gray card. Flare tends to lower contrast and hide details and nobody wants a blob of off-colored light in the middle of their image.

Whether photographing the salt pan full of goldfields from fifty feet up with a drone, or getting up close and personal with owls clover in the hills above, backlighting helps create both dramatic landscapes and delicate portraits of wildflowers, one of our favorite springtime subjects.
